

'For the Fallen'

Commemorating the 5th Battalion North Staffordshire Regiment and the Role of Ceramics in the First World War

A Free CPD Opportunity for Stoke & Staffordshire Teachers, Tuesday 25th September, 0900-1600

To support the Stoke & Staffs Schools in Commemorating the Centenary of the end of the First World War local KS2 – KS4 teachers are invited to:

The day's training at the Potteries Museum, provided by the Potteries Museum Education Team and Historic England Heritage Schools, will include:

- Introduction to the Role of the 5th Bn North Staffs Regiment during the First World War
- Exclusive viewing of the exhibition 'Commemorating Conflict: The Potteries & War' and the 69ft long Commemorative Canvas 'For the Fallen', made in 1920, with the Museum Collections and Education Team providing specialist insight
- How to research local First World War soldiers and utilise your local war memorial
- Practical workshop on how to make commemorative banners using printing techniques and how to incorporate these commemorative themes into your curriculum.

Lunch will be provided and participants will receive a free set of resources.

There are 15 places available for this training event

To confirm your interest please email Martin Phillips of Historic England

martin.phillips@historicengland.org.uk